

Academic Programs

The Hank Greenspun School of Journalism and Media Studies offers programs at both the undergraduate and graduate level. The coursework emphasizes the integration of media forms, techniques, and approaches to prepare students for 21st century jobs in an integrated media world. The programs also capitalize on unique and exciting opportunities available in the School, at UNLV, and in Las Vegas.

TELEVISION

UNLV-TV is a full-service media production facility providing hands-on production experiences for UNLV students.

RADIO

KUNV operates two HD side channels available on HD receivers, online and on mobile apps. Students hone their skills in production, reporting, social media, and radio management.

Hank Greenspun School of Journalism and Media Studies

Our mission is to prepare students to become thoughtful scholars and researchers as well as effective professionals in broadcast and print journalism, integrated marketing communication, public relations, and media studies.

REBEL REPORT

The Rebel Report is a student-run sports broadcast and social media platform. The Rebel Report team covers sports all over Las Vegas, providing stories and content you won't find anywhere else.

REBEL MEDIA

The UNLV Rebel Media Group provides clients with innovative and strategic digital media campaigns created by students and overseen by experienced media professionals. Our teams gain hands-on experience while providing digital media solutions for academic, business, and nonprofit clients.
